There's nothing quite like relaxing around a campfire. Whether you're enjoying s'mores or just a night under the stars, your campfire is your responsibility.

- Check with local officials for any burn bans or restrictions that may prohibit campfires.
- Make a small fire in a safe area. Clear the area around your fire.
- Never leave a campfire unattended.
- When preparing to leave, soak the fire with water. Stir the coals and then soak again. Check for heat and repeat until out cold.
